

Thank you for purchasing and using AJAZZ keyboard or mouse product. We are committed to providing you with reliable and high-performance peripheral devices to enhance your daily work and entertainment experience.

For any questions about product functions, usage methods, or maintenance during your use, you can visit our official website at “<https://www.a-jazz.com/>” to download the electronic manual. The electronic manual contains detailed introductions to product parameters, operation steps, and common problem solutions, which can help you quickly solve most usage issues.

If you need further assistance after reading the electronic manual, you can also contact our online customer service team through the official website. Our professional customer service staff will reply to your inquiries in a timely manner and provide you with professional technical support and solutions.

We hope this product can bring convenience and a good experience to your life and work. Once again, thank you for your trust and support in AJAZZ!